LEARNING – NETWORKING – SOCIALISING FOR A SUCCESSFUL START IN ANIMAL REHABILITATION

The University of Tennessee Certified Canine Fitness Trainer (CCFT) is the only world-wide academic program for canine fitness education.

The high standards for admission and quality of our curriculum assure graduates that the CCFT credential is recognized as the premiere program in canine fitness globally.

It is taught by world wide accredited speakers and includes active university instructors, expert clinicians and researchers as well as active competitors in different dog sports disciplines. The curriculum draws from ongoing research, evidence based case studies and clinical experience.

The course consists of CCFT I e-learning and CCFT II onsite lab days followed by CCFT III case reports and finally the CCFT IV exam. CCFT I needs to be finished before the onsite lab days, as it provides you the necessary background needed for the labs and interactive exercises and case discussions.

CCFT II covers Canine exercise assessment, anatomy (foundation), behavior, the development of specific canine exercise programs, fitness equipment and also includes the fitness business development.

The way the course is presented, opportunities for questions and discussions continue beyond the actual teaching and hands-on practice schedule. Interaction in small groups between students with different abilities and specialties maximizes the learning potential. The course combines evidence-based theoretical knowledge, up-to-date research information and an interactive animal lab. The importance of as well as information on how to utilize the dog's entire team of health providers is greatly emphasized.
