ANNA HERZOG

Anna Herzog made history as the first handler to compete at the highest level in both KC and FCI Obedience, qualifying twice for Crufts and representing Great Britain at the FCI Obedience World Championships. With more than 20 years of experience in dog training, behaviour, and competitive obedience, Anna is internationally respected for her thoughtful, detail-oriented approach to training.

Anna began her journey working with reactive and challenging dogs before expanding into advanced competitive training. Over the past 15 years, she has taught seminars around the world and has played a leading role in introducing FCI Obedience to the UK.

Known for her clear instruction, strong handler mechanics, and practical training systems, Anna helps teams build precision, confidence, and understanding while keeping training engaging and enjoyable for both dog and handler.
